PRESS RELEASE

Blackfoot's Web Site goes Live

April 19, 2006 Missoula, Mont - Blackfoot Telecommunications Group, Inc. rolled out its fresh, cutting-edge new web site to the public Wednesday. The site is located at www.blackfoot.com, and boasts a new, user-friendly design that captures Blackfoot's commitment to customer service and dedication as a leading technology company in Montana.

"We welcome the launch of this new website. It is a resource that gives our customers the opportunity to access product information and receive immediate support," said Blackfoot's CEO, Joan Mandeville.

Key new features of the site include the online, customer-initiated "Chat Now" tool enabling customers to communicate instantly with a Blackfoot Customer Service Representative. Also new to the site is an upgraded, totally secure e-bill feature allowing customers to set up auto deductions, recurring payments and customized payment methods. There is a high-speed Internet qualification tool for users to check on available service in their area, detailed information on Blackfoot's residential and business products and services, accessible customer support information and details on Blackfoot's community involvement and support.

"The new, redesigned Blackfoot Web site is a clean and inviting online experience with a graphic appeal that enforces Blackfoot's desire to deliver faster, more advanced and more reliable telecommunications services to our customers," said Kevin Amazon, Blackfoot VP of Sales and Marketing.
